

Student Debt for College Graduates in Pennsylvania

To enroll and complete a degree, students must be able to afford college without burdensome debt or risky types of debt.

In 2019-20, 64 percent of Pennsylvania college graduates had student loan debt, placing the state third highest nationally on this measure.

The average debt load of a Pennsylvania college graduate in 2019-20 was $39,375.

Thirty-nine percent of Pennsylvania college graduates' student loan debt was nonfederal debt that is often costlier and carries fewer consumer protection than federal debt. The largest component of this nonfederal debt is private student loans—debt that students borrow from banks and private lenders. In Pennsylvania, 22 percent of college graduates had private student debt, with an average private debt load of $42,361 among these borrowers.

Fifty-three percent of Pennsylvania college graduates attended public colleges, while the remaining 47 percent of graduates attended private nonprofit colleges, where costs and debt among graduates are typically higher than public colleges.
