The Honorable Steve Cohen
Chairman, Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law
Committee on the Judiciary
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC  20515

Dear Chairman Cohen:

On behalf of the undersigned organizations, we are writing to express our strong support for the Private Student Loan Bankruptcy Fairness Act of 2010.

Private student loans are one of the riskiest, most expensive ways to pay for college. Like credit cards, they typically have variable interest rates that are higher for those who can least afford them. However, private student loans are treated much more harshly in bankruptcy than credit cards and other comparable types of debt.

Private student loan borrowers also lack access to the important deferment, income-based repayment, or loan forgiveness options that come with federal student loans. This leaves most private loan borrowers at the mercy of the lender if they face financial distress due to unemployment, disability, illness or military deployment, or when a school shuts down before they can finish their certificate or degree.

The Private Student Loan Bankruptcy Fairness Act of 2010 would reverse the unfair and unjustified special bankruptcy protections for private student lenders included in the 2005 bankruptcy law. Our broad coalition of groups representing students, consumers, and institutions of higher education, and civil rights and public policy organizations thanks you for your leadership on this important issue.

Signed,

* A large number of organizations are working together to advance Americans for Financial Reform’s (AFR) common interest in an accountable, transparent and secure financial system and to accomplish shared policy goals. Because the organizations involved and the issues addressed are diverse, not every organization works on or has a policy position on every specific issue.
Updated to include to include organizations that signed after April 21, 2010.
